Trust in the LORD
with all your heart,
and do not lean
on your own understanding.

Proverbs 3:5

Trusting God in Seasons of Uncertainty

Life is full of seasons—some are filled with clarity and joy, while others leave us facing questions, doubts, and uncertainty.

In those uncertain times, it can be tempting to rely on our own understanding or to feel anxious about what lies ahead. But as followers of Christ, we are called to trust that God's plan is always the best plan.

Even when we can't see the full picture, God is at work. He never subtracts from our lives without the intention of multiplying something greater in His perfect timing. Every closed door, every waiting season, and every unexpected turn is part of a bigger story He is writing for our good and His glory.

So, what should we do when we find ourselves in a season of uncertainty? We choose to trust. We choose to pray and spend time in God's presence. We choose to read His Word and cling to His promises. We choose to gather with other believers for encouragement and accountability. And we choose to worship—even when it's hard—because worship shifts our focus back to the One who holds it all together.

If you are walking through uncertainty right now, take comfort in knowing that God is faithful, and He is with you every step of the way. His timing is perfect, and His plan will always be better than anything we could have imagined.

Take some time this week to read and reflect on Proverbs 3:5-6:

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight."
